R. L. Mason, of Richmond, offered the following prayer, which contains the first official allusion to the assassination of President McKinley: Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, forever and forever. Almighty and most merciful God, by whose power all things are created, and by whose providence all things are sustained, we stand here to invoke Thy blessing and Thy help upon us this morning. We ask, Almighty God, that Thy spirit may be poured down upon us, that Thy counsels may direct this nation, that our rulers and governors everywhere may reverence Thy holy name and seek to follow Thy divine counsel. We pray that our people may be a righteous people, loving God and working righteousness, and doing Thy will in their hearts.
